Providing Services

The City of Kitakyushu established the Kitakyushu Asian Center for Low Carbon Society in June 2010 (~~to be~~ renamed Kitakyushu Asia Center for Carbon Neutrality in January 2023). The Center aims to reduce greenhouse gas emissions in Asia by actively promoting the export of environmental and social technologies to the region through collaboration between the Kitakyushu City (Environment Bureau, International Environmental Strategies Division), KITA (Kitakyushu International Techno-cooperative Association), and IGES (Institute for Global Environmental Strategies) Kitakyushu Urban Centre.

Project Achievement/Technical Expertise

Kitakyushu City has contributed to decarbonizing Asia by exporting its accumulated technology and know-how to cities overseas, especially in Asia. In addition to traditional government-level cooperation projects, Kitakyushu is also actively supporting the entry of environmental businesses by leveraging its know-how in overcoming pollution and the advanced technology of local companies.
